TO HEAR BISHOP ESTATE MATTER

Are two of the justices of the supreme court, Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson and Associate Justice R. F. Quarles, qualified to hear the appeal of the trustees of the Bishop Estate from a decision by Judge Ashford appointing Charles E. King one of their number?
 This important point in the now famous legal case will be argued in the higher court at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Upon the retirement of S. M. Damon, the supreme court appointed William Williamson as his successor on the board of trustees of the Bishop Estate. Judge Ashford refused to confirm the nomination, and appointed King. The remaining trustees appealed.
 Attorney E. C. Peters, counsel for King, contends that the chief justice and Associate Justice Quarles are not qualified to hear the appeal. Attorneys hold that, while the point is a preliminary one, it is vitally important to the future progress of the litigation.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat, Which Clogs Kidneys, Then Back Hurts and Kidneys Bother You

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have headache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headache, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.
 You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.
 Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.
 A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

Mrs. Alice Ingersoll filed in circuit court today a suit for divorce from Robert Ingersoll. She alleges she has received no support from her husband for a period of more than 60 days. The Ingersolls were married in Honolulu in 1912 by Bishop H. S. Restrick. There are no children.

NEW BULLETINS WILL FILL WANT

A new series of bulletins have just been launched by the U. S. experiment station, called "Extension Notes," the first issue appearing last week. This makes three series which the station issues. Concerning this new bulletin, J. M. Westgate, director of the station, says:
 "The present series of extension bulletins is designed to fill a field not fully occupied by the two series of bulletins which have been maintained by this station since its organization. The regular bulletins of the station give the results of the experiments performed by the scientists at the station and many of these are of a technical nature.
 "The second series, namely the press bulletins, is concerned principally with the writing up, in a popular manner, some line of experiments or some one topic upon which the experiment station has conducted investigations. This is much less technical in character than the first series.
 "For some time there has been felt a need for a series of bulletins which would be of even less formal character than the press bulletins and which would give brief discussions of several topics of timely interest in each issue. This series is not expected to be confined to the reporting of the work actually done at the Hawaii agricultural station, but will contain items of agricultural interest gathered from various sources, but which promise to be of practical application to Hawaiian conditions. It is hoped that this series will do much toward bringing the extension workers and the actual farmers into closer touch with each other. The difficulties of travel throughout the islands make it impracticable for the necessarily limited extension force to maintain close personal contacts with the individual farmer. Such a series of bulletins as is planned will serve to carry just such timely messages from the extension workers as they would give by word of mouth were it possible for them to reach all in that way. By this means the field work of the extension division will be supplemented and in addition the material gathered together by them will be put into permanent form so that it can be kept by all for future reference when needed."
 The department which the new series will cover are articles on home-grown farm crops (including livestock), the utilization of some home-grown products for the household, digest of two or three farm bulletins, cooperation among the farmers, experiments of some Hawaiian farmers, articles on gardening and miscellaneous articles.

This year there will probably be not more than eight or nine bulletins issued, but beginning next year it is the intention of Westgate to get out one every month.
SECRET SOCIETY TROUBLES AIDED
 Troubles of a Hawaiian secret society are aided through the filing in circuit court of a bill for injunction, accounting and dissolution by M. E. Silva, et al, against J. K. Kakookoo and other members of the Abahini Poo Nui Kaulikeonui. Summons in the case was returned to court today.
 It is alleged that certain of the respondents have used improvident and improper methods in handling the funds of the hui "by loaning and advancing funds to themselves and other irresponsible persons" and "on insufficient security."
 Plaintiffs ask that a receiver be appointed, that an injunction issue restraining the respondents from disposing of the moneys and property of the hui and that an accounting be made. It is further alleged that the respondents now have about $6000 in their hands.

BRINGS MESSAGE FROM A. A. C. HEAD TO THE HONOLULU AD CLUB
 Bringing a message from Herbert S. Houston, president of the A. A. C. of the World, John K. Allen will be the chief guest of the Ad Club at its weekly lunch in the Young Hotel Wednesday. A message from the president of the Associated Ad Clubs is always of interest, but even did he not bear such a message Allen would be a welcome visitor and guest. He is the advertising manager of the Christian Science Monitor and can be depended upon to give an interesting talk on advertising and to present a number of new angles and older angles from new and different viewpoints.
 Musical numbers are also announced by the Ad Club secretary with George Andrus rendering tenor solos and Earl G. Bartlett as accompanist. There are business matters that are to be considered and committee reports which will fill out the program.

BELIEVES NO NEED OF CHANGING LAND LAWS
 Bertram G. Rivenburgh, commissioner of public lands, says that he sees no particular use in the bill proposed in Congress by Delegate J. K. Kalaanikoa to amend the Organic Act so as to let the legislature of Hawaii dispose of public lands instead of letting the power stay with Congress. The commissioner says that at present the congressmen act virtually on the recommendation of the legislature, anyway, and that such a change seems unnecessary.

This Simple Laxative A Household Necessity

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Should Have a Place in Every Home

Constipation, or inaction of the bowels, a condition that nearly everyone experiences with more or less frequency, is the direct cause of much disease. When the bowels become clogged with refuse from the stomach, foul gases and poisons are generated, and unless the congestion is quickly relieved the system becomes weakened and most susceptible to attack.
 Various remedies to relieve constipation are prescribed, but many of these contain cathartic or purgative agents that are harsh and violent in their action and shock the system. The most effective remedy is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

The Hon. John D. Kelster of Brandywine, W. Va., who has represented his district in the State Legislature for six years, writes that he uses Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and finds it a splendid laxative, easy to take and mild yet positive in its action, and that it should be in every household for use when needed.
 Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists in all parts of the United States and costs only fifty cents a bottle. It contains no opiate or narcotic drug, does not gripe and is recommended as a family laxative, mild enough for the tiniest babe, yet sufficiently powerful to act easily on the strongest constitution.

Government Hunts Drug Adulterators
 Officials Seize and Destroy Imitations of Well-Known Preparations.

Acting under the Food and Drugs Act which makes it a punishable offense to label a medicine falsely, Federal officials have recently increased their activities against adulterators of neosalvarsan, aspirin and other important drugs, with the result that tremendous quantities of the spurious have been found and destroyed as a menace to public health.
 The medical press of the country is, of course, supporting this activity of the Government, and one of the leading journals of this class, The Medical Critic and Guide of New York (of which William J. Robinson, Ph. G., M. D., is the editor), editorially comments on this situation in its September issue, as follows:
 "Suppose you had a severe cold, a touch of the grip, a rheumatic pain, or an incipient tonsillitis, conditions for which, in your case, you found aspirin to act quickly and satisfactorily. And suppose you bought some aspirin tablets or powders, and took them as you were in the habit of doing and experienced no relief whatever. And suppose, being suspicious and being somewhat of a chemist, you analyzed them and found that they did not contain the faintest trace of aspirin, not even giving a reaction for salicylic acid. And suppose further that on a more thorough examination the drug which is supposed to be aspirin was found to be nothing but a mixture of sugar of milk and cream of tartar. Suppose all these things—what would you feel like saying and doing? In this case the druggist was an honest fellow, he confessed that he bought the tablets from an itinerant peddler; and on finding out the true state of affairs he dumped the entire lot of tablets into the sink. But when will druggists learn that the only safe way is to buy from the original manufacturers or from reliable houses with an established reputation? It is not only the right and honest thing to do, it is the only safe thing to do, if you wish to avoid trouble, exposure, fines and even imprisonment. The public must be protected."
